CLINICIAN-SCIENTISTS TRANSDISCIPLINARY AGING RESEARCH (CLIN-STAR) PAPER SESSION

Organized and sponsored by AGS.

FRIDAY, May 13 | 1:30pm - 2:30pm

Location: Asia 4CME/CE:1.0

This session will present the latest peer-reviewed geriatrics research with questions and answers to follow.

AGS MEDICAL SPECIALTIES SECTION MEETING

Organized and sponsored by AGS.

SATURDAY, May 14 | 7:00 AM – 8:30 AM

Room: Asia 1 | Track: Networking

Co-Chairs: Lauren Ferrante, MD, MHS & Una Makris, MD, MSc
The theme of the session this year is “The Urgency of Adaptation,” with a focus on adapting to challenges in one’s career, whether it is a career transition, pandemic-related disruption, or other challenge. Our multidisciplinary panel of senior medical and surgical specialists will speak briefly on the topic and then lead a panel discussion, followed by small round table discussions with the individual speakers. Breakout sessions will be followed by a talk from a National Institute on Aging (NIA) program officer about funding opportunities. All medical and surgical subspecialists, including geriatricians, are encouraged to attend.

AGS/CLIN-STAR MENTORING AND GRANTSMANSHIP WORKSHOP

SATURDAY, May 14 | 12:00 PM – 3:45 PM

Room: S. Hemisphere 5 | No CME/CE for this session

Track: Research

The American Geriatrics Society (AGS), in partnership with the Clinician-Scientists Transdisciplinary Aging Research Coordinating Center (Clin-STAR CC) and the National Institute on Aging (NIA) are offering an in-person AGS/Clin-STAR Mentoring and Grantsmanship Workshop during the AGS 2022 Annual Scientific Meeting. This workshop will offer opportunities for networking, discussing important aspects of DEI across research, and providing attendees with useful information on grantsmanship efforts through breakout discussions. Click here to view the full AGENDA. Who Should Attend? Geared towards early career investigators but open to all. Email eo Brusniak@americangeriatrics.org to reserve a boxed lunch!
